

O TO BE A SOLDIER By Arthur Lane

'This book is Arthur's penultimate work.

A brief account of Arthur's life which encompasses many of the trials, encounters and nightmares of his whole career during the war and after.

Not as detailed as some of his other books but a revelation to any 'boys wanting to be men' and a reminder to any 'men no longer boys' of a time and times that some would like to forget but can only remember.'

AN INTRODUCTORY BIOGRAPHICAL ACCOUNT OF THE LIFE AND CAREER OF THE FOUNDER OF THE NATIONAL EX SERVICES ASSOCIATION

I was that which others cared not to be. I went where others feared to go, and did what others failed to do. I asked nothing from those who gave nothing, and reluctantly accepted the thought of eternal loneliness - should I fail.

I have seen the face of terror. Felt the chill of fear, warmed to the touch of love.

I have hoped, pained and cried. But, foremost, lived in times others would say were best forgotten. At the very least I will be able to say with greatest pride that I was indeed a soldier.

From orphan to drummer boy, from proud soldier to musician to the dead, from Stockport to Singapore and back. Arthur Lane expands on his book 'Empire Soldiers' with additional material including his life after the war which changed it.
